12:45- 1:00- Election of Officers

1:00- SPEAKER- Claire Noonan, Ph.D, has researched the role of women in developing leadership in state government. She has devoted her time, not only to those who made powerful contributions, but also to those who worked on the sidelines. Some of these people have appeared as significant and interesting characters in her books. You will undoubtedly find the development of women's voting rights and participation in government an important and interesting facet of American history.

The President's Points:

We are losing too many of our strong active members. Elsewhere in this newsletter are articles on contributions made by Erwin Parent, who has moved to Modesto to be near his family, and Suzanne McBride (and husband Jon) who have moved to Santa Barbara for the same reason. I attended the wonderfully moving Celebration of Life for Babs Brownyard, who was a very active Board member over the years – she was very funny at our November meeting as half of the team who honored/roasted Hannah Cline, who moved to Burbank, not only to be closer to two of her daughters, but also to be closer to the cultural scene in Los Angeles. When I moved to the desert and joined this branch, I was pleased to find Hannah, whom I had met at AAUW Los Angeles Interbranch Council meetings.

Elsewhere in this newsletter is the list of officers nominated for the next year. We hope you will be at the April meeting to vote.

Five of us went to hear Lilly Ledbetter speak at the University of Redlands. She is a wonderful

Speech Trek

The board allocated funds to allow us to financially hold a contest in 2013/14.

The musical fundraiser will be a big help, especially if we have a winner! We can always look ahead to funding the following year as well.

Our committee is still lacking participants so let us hope we can have five more volunteers, snowbirds are welcome. In order to pursue the buddy system, which I prefer, we will need at least 12 people even if we do East valley one year and West valley the next. It is not practical to try to do it with less, (at least for me).

I wish to thank all the brave souls who have signed up so far and especially thank Angie Love for her work and donation in March which allowed us to enjoy the musical at Joanne Bourquin's home, a delightful event.

Mary Dimon

We are saluting two board members who have moved from our area. Suzanne McBride's experiences in the Palm Springs AAUW, followed by Erwin Parent's, will remind all of us of their valuable contributions.

Forty years ago, I moved to a new town, Ukiah, when my husband secured his first civil engineering position. Outreaching to find like-minded women, I joined AAUW. I now say goodbye to my third branch, Palm Springs. I welcome my pending fourth branch, Santa Barbara, where I will spoil my new granddaughter Viola, the only descendant in my family line.

Besides taking 190 Osher classes, Tech Trek camperships have been my favorite activity. To think in my day, teaching, nursing, and secretarial were about the only options for young women. Immersing eighth-grade girls into an environment where they realize they can be anything they want is a vital offering. Interviewing of current finalists is underway as I write. The eight UC Irvine campers will be notified at the end of March.

From secretary, membership, nominating, Tech Trek, Reel Revelers, I am proud to have served Palm Springs Branch. You are a wonderful group of intelligent, diverse women. Carry on.

I started with AAUW, when Rosanna was a member in Sacramento - that was the first time I had heard of the organization. The thing that impressed me the most, was the Branch's involvement, helping locally.

This must have impressed others - because they were contacted by the County, asking for their help with women being released from the County Penal System. The Branch agreed and would put together home furnishing baskets for their new apartments (which the County helped obtain for them). Some of the members also stepped up to help mentor them in career choices. Rosanna was one of them. One young lady came to our home three nights a week (with her little baby girl - she had been raped by a Prison Guard). Rosanna sat with her and poured over all kinds of career material. She finally zeroed in on a career in Nursing. Rosanna and I agreed to baby sit this darling little 19 month old girl 4 nights a week while her Mom attended classes. She was in her second year when we moved to Riverside. Rosanna kept in touch with her for a few years. When we joined the Riverside Branch - it was then I realized that each Branch was different - they did not have the same program. But I was hooked - imagine - Branch members having the guts to invite an ex-con to your home and trusting her instincts that this was a right idea.

Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act Is Law!

March 08, 2013

AAUW was fortunate enough to be invited to attend an incredible celebration Thursday — the signing ceremony for the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA). Advocates and leaders gathered in the auditorium of the Department of the Interior for this event.

Vice President Joe Biden spoke passionately about his lifelong advocacy to end domestic violence and his leadership in passing both the original 1994 law and this reauthorization. He specifically mentioned that campuses would be safer thanks to VAWA reauthorization.

President Barack Obama spotlighted the improvements that the updated bill puts in place, including clear nondiscrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity, jurisdiction for tribal governments to help survivors who are part of their communities, and improvements to our current human trafficking laws.

VAWA reauthorization is monumental. It takes major strides — not just baby steps — toward ending domestic violence, sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking against women and men.

TYKE TREK WANTS YOU!

Tyke Trek, P.S. Branch AAUW's Science Enrichment Program for Fourth Grade Girls will be returning to Vista de Monte Elementary School in Palm Springs on Friday, May 24. Please join the Tyke Trek Team regulars for a fun morning of educational projects, designed by our Branch to meet the CA Fourth Grade Science Standards and give the little young ladies a leg up on how exciting and fun science can be.

Barbara Villaini and Barbara Maccarillo co-chair the project and look forward to seeing you there. RSVP to BHV@gmail.com or to Bmaccarillo@aol.com
